Andrew Parley Inducted into the Construction Lawyers Society of America

Congratulations to Andrew Parley who was inducted as a Fellow of the Construction Lawyers Society of America (CLSA) at a ceremony held on October 22, 2026.

Fellowship in the CLSA is extended by invitation only to North America's best construction lawyers for their excellent advocacy, high ethical standards, and significant accomplishment in the industry.

"We are thrilled to celebrate Andrew's induction into the CLSA," says Managing Partner, Monique Jilesen. "Andrew is an outstanding advocate and go-to counsel in many of Canada's largest construction and infrastructure disputes. His courtroom skills combined with his engineering background give our clients a real advantage in the most technically complex matters. This honour is very well deserved."

Andrew is co-lead of our Construction and Infrastructure Practice Group. With a focus on commercial litigation and construction, he represents businesses of all sizes, including contractors, owners, developers, and subcontractors. He acts for Canada's biggest constructors, including Crosslinx Transit Solutions, Aecon, AtkinsRéalis, and EllisDon.

Andrew's trial experience combined with his mechanical engineering background allows him to deftly navigate the legal and technical issues of complex construction and infrastructure projects. He has appeared at all levels of court in Ontario and before the Supreme Court of Canada, as well as in private domestic and international arbitrations.

Congratulations, Andrew!

About the Construction Lawyers Society of America (CLSA)
