

August 9, 2019

Aphria is back on track, Irwin Simon says, but questions from dealmaking controversy still linger

Our firm was mentioned in the Financial Post article "Aphria is back on track, Irwin Simon says, but questions from dealmaking controversy still linger."

...

In the special committee's report released to the board on Feb. 15, Simon and his team — with the oversight of auditor Deloitte LLP and legal adviser Lenczner Slaght Royce Smith Griffin LLP — concluded that, yes, the controversial assets in question were purchased at a high price, but that they were still "within an acceptable range."

Continue reading:

<https://business.financialpost.com/cannabis/aphria-is-back-on-track-irwin-simon-says-but-questions-from-dealmaking-controversy-still-linger>