Aaron I. Grossman

is a partner at Lenczner Slaght.

Aaron's practice focuses on litigating disputes within the construction, infrastructure and real estate sectors. With significant expertise as a lawyer and structural engineer, Aaron excels in highly technical cases which require expert evidence. He can speak the same language as engineering and construction professionals allowing for efficient and successful representation of his clients from the outset of a matter through to trial.

Aaron has significant experience advising clients on claims and issues that arise during the course of a project under a number of different contract models. Aaron's deep experience in the construction industry allows him to get up to speed quickly and provide timely and practical advice to his clients.

Aaron is experienced in resolving complicated engineering and construction by negotiation, mediation, and arbitration. Aaron is highly skilled at developing custom dispute resolution processes to advance his clients' interests effectively and quickly. Clients look to Aaron for strategic and practical advice to resolve their technical legal disputes in the courtroom and the boardroom.

Prior to attending law school, Aaron studied and practiced structural engineering, concentrating on building design and construction.
