- Representative Counsel Not Needed for The Body Shop Employees – In March 2024, The Body Shop Canada (“TBS Canada”) filed a Notice of Intention to make a Proposal under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act after its UK parent company completed a cash sweep of TBS Canada. The cash sweep instantly eliminated TBS Canada’s liquidity, forcing it to suspend online orders and close 33 retail stores.
- What’s Control Got to Do With It: Construction Owners are Employers Under the OHSA – On November 10, 2023, when the Supreme Court of Canada (“SCC”) released their decision in R v Greater Sudbury (City), the internet responded with widespread panic because, for the first time, the Court has confirmed that a project owner is an employer under Ontario’s Occupational Health and Safety Act (“OHSA” or the “Act”).
- When intention matters: assessing the enforceability of termination clauses – An invalid termination clause is a former employee’s golden ticket for employment litigation, increasing a notice period from the statutory minimum to what is reasonable at common law. The monetary difference can be substantial. Given the financial implications, there is a large and growing body of case law on when a termination clause will be deemed unenforceable.
