Lenczner Slaght launches centralized website for commercial list

Monique Jilesen was interviewed for the Law Times' recent article "Lenczner Slaght launches centralized website for commercial list" on June 21, 2019. In this article, Monique discusses the drive behind the launch of commercialist.com.

"There are a bunch of unwritten rules for how to practise there," says Jilesen. "We are well known for our commercial litigation practice, and this demonstrates our commitment to the administration of justice as well as the expertise of commercial litigation."

Although it has "no formal affiliation with the court," Lenczner Slaght's website provides a hub for not only the decisions but also blog posts and a newsletter sent out by the users' committee, she says.
