Social Media in the Workplace

Following the webinar on Practical Tools to Reduce your Organization's Risk with Social Media Use which took place on October 17, 2014, Matthew Sammon, Jaan Lilles and Dena Varah were quoted in an article in the Winter issue of the CCCA Magazine which highlights the key takeaways.

"As social media use continues to expand and evolve in both personal and professional circles, the law is fighting to keep up with the rapid developments.

To provide some guidelines, the CCCA and Lenczner Slaght delivered the webinar Practical Tools to Reduce Your Company's Risk with Social Media, in October. During the webinar, the experts tackled four emerging social media issues that in-house counsel and employers need to keep top of mind. Below, you'll find the key takeaways..."
