Surveillance disclosure tightens

Brian Kolenda's article appears in the May 1, 2015 issue of the Lawyers Weekly published by Lexis Nexis Canada Inc. This article discusses the decision in Iannarella v. Corbett, 2015 ONCA 110 which deals with disclosure and the use of surveillance evidence.

"The Court of Appeal for Ontario recently released an important decision on the admissibility of surveillance evidence at trial in Iannarella v. Corbett [2015] O.J. No. 726. The case has particularly significant implications for personal injury actions, in which defence counsel regularly consider retaining private investigators to gather evidence that may undermine a plaintiff's injury claims..."
