

Evan Linn
416-238-7507
elinn@litigate.com

June 15, 2026

The Grappling Hook: Responsive Justification in Administrative Law Since Vavilov

Evan Linn authored the article "The Grappling Hook: Responsive Justification in Administrative Law Since Vavilov" which was published in the Supreme Court Law Review. The article reviews the "grappling hook" principle, a key idea shaping how courts assess whether a decision is reasonable and explores its implications through a recent Supreme Court of Canada immigration case, Pepa v Canada, and other rulings.

Continue reading: <https://store.lexisnexis.com/en-ca/products/supreme-court-law-review-3rd-series-volume-11.html#:~:text=Featured>