With insurance expiring and a questionable waiver, St. F.X. welcomes students

Rebecca Jones was quoted in The Chronicle Herald article "With insurance expiring and a questionable waiver, St. F.X. welcomes students".

"The Supreme Court (of Canada) has very recently expanded the circumstances where people could say 'we were in an unequal bargaining position and the contract's not fair,'" said Rebecca Jones, a Toronto lawyer whose specializations include professional liability.

"If you have those two things, (the court) might say we can't enforce it."
