Welcome to^{*} the partnership, Aaron Grossman. Aaron is a fierce advocate who works tirelessly to advance his clients' interests within the construction, infrastructure, and real estate sector. Owing to his deep experience in engineering and construction, Aaron excels in highly technical cases which require expert evidence. He can speak the same language as engineering and construction professionals allowing for efficient and successful representation of his clients from the outset of a matter through to trial. As our new[§] partner, clients and colleagues will continue to rely on his expert insight and strategic and practical advice to resolve their complex legal issues in the courtroom and the boardroom. We are proud to call him our partner[‡]. Congratulations, Aaron!
